By ELLIS CUEVAS
The ribbon cutting Friday for the most modern Hospitality Station in Mississippi met a complete contrast in weather to the ground breaking ceremonies in 1978.
A 75 degree lower temperature did not cool the hundreds who witnessed Bob Joiner, Highway Commissioner for the Southern District cut the ribbon assisted by Miss Shane Pittman, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality, and Miss Deborah Edwards, Miss Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The Hospitality Station, located at the intersection of I-10 and Highway 607, was discussed at a meeting in the Hancock County Courthouse in 1963, according to State Senator Martin Smith, master of ceremonies.

Smith said at that early meeting someone said, "It will be a cold day in July before a Hospitality Station ever comes into being in Hancock County."
Senator Smith recognized federal, state, district and coastal community leaders in the audience of hundreds in the bright sunshine.

Bands of Hancock North Central and Bay Senior High entertained during the open house and dedication ceremonies.
The invocation was given by Rev. Charles Clark, pastor, First Assembly of God Church, Waveland.
Representatives from the Gulf Coast sent their greetings through Senator

Smith, who commented, "They are working so I could be down here."
A. A. (Dolph) Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, said, "It really makes me feel good to see this type of crowd here today. We thank everyone, for there were a lot of people involved. I would also like to thank the past highway commissioner."

"We need an exit from the East Bound lane," Kellar mentioned and drew a tremendous applause.
George Williams, director of tourism, Mississippi Department of Economic Development, commented, "I remember the hot day that ground was

Rare aircraft delivers engine cones at Stennis

By RICH ADAMS
One of the largest aircraft in the world, the 'Mini-Guppy' cargo plane, departed from Stennis International Airport in Hancock County Friday after delivering engine equipment to be used for the space shuttle project at the National Space Technology Laboratories.
The large cargo craft, originally built by Boeing Aircraft and later modified by a California aircraft company, is one of two such planes existing today which are used exclusively by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for transporting engines and rockets, according to Stennis Field operator Andy Ewing.

The Guppy was displayed at the Paris Air Show in 1967, where it was declared the largest plane in the world, according to Ewing.

Since that time other craft have been developed with larger interior designs, the airport director explained.
"Three such Guppies were originally manufactured, but only one 'Mini-Guppy' and a larger 'Super-Guppy' exist today. This is the last of the GUPPY-Page 2A

Waveland seeks owner for Garfield Ladner pier

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Waveland Mayor John Longo expressed his city's desire to divest itself of the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier during a Wednesday night meeting of American Legion Post 77.
"But if we can't find a private group interested in the facility, the city will go ahead with renewal and operation of the pier as long as we can be adequately covered by insurance," Longo explained later.

"We want to relinquish ownership of the Garfield Ladner pier," Mayor John Longo said.

"It would be a wonderful thing for the people and the Legion wouldn't be subject to harassment like we would be," Longo stated.

Longo was queried by a board member as to the organization's susceptibility to lawsuits.

City Attorney Lucien Gex shook his head affirmatively and said, "Someone could get a judgement against the American Legion the same as the city. The suit would be a seizure of assets, but the most you can get out of a corporation is all of your assets."

"There are definite advantages to getting the Legion involved. If you are sued it stops at a point for you all, but not for the city," Longo said.

"Right now I feel like I'm lucky that the city hasn't been sued because it's happening all over," Longo added.

"I think what we ought to do is have a committee to work with the city," Legion Commander Floyd Breaux suggested.

In response to a question from a Legion member on cost of restoring the Ladner pier, Longo replied, "Dolph (Hancock County Board of Supervisor's President A. A. (Dolph) Kellar) and I talked about a joint venture of around $10,000."

Another Legion member asked if the county would promise to maintain the pier after being restored and Longo responded, "I would think so, but I can't speak for the county. We've developed a good rapport with the county."

The mayor added that the city would help with trash cleanup on the pier. Longo also asked for the Legion's help in lighting the new little league field behind the Waveland Elementary school.

The mayor estimated total cost for LADNER PIER-Page 5A

Circuit Court Judge Leslie B. Grant said Friday a special drawing of prospective jurors for an April murder trial of Edgar (Pete) Moran, which was requested by Defense Attorney Boyce

A Mobile Medic ambulance and a late model van collided at the intersection of US-90 and Dunbar Avenue late Saturday afternoon.

Jerry Haydale, Mobile Medic emergency medical technician, sustained undetermined injuries in the accident and transported in another ambulance to Hancock General.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams said William Andrews, also a Mobile Medic technician, was driver of the ambulance and was traveling East on US-90 to Pass Christian to answer another emergency.

Police said Joseph Pisarch of Ocean Springs was traveling North on Dunbar in the van.

Drug store heist suspect arrested

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
John Richard Veillon, 19, was arrested at his home in Lakeshore Friday by Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigators Delbert Seay and Alvin Ladner for allegedly participating in the armed robbery of Fahey's Drug Store in Bay St. Louis Dec. 10.

"We also confiscated a 22 caliber pistol and a 30-30 rifle which were allegedly used in the robbery," according to a description given to us by Don Favre, pharmacist and owner at the drug store," Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

"We do have a warrant for the arrest of a third person involved with the robbery in our continuing investigation," Peterson stated.

"This arrest is the result of a joint investigation by our office and the Bay St. Louis Police Department," Peterson added.

"A Bay St. Louis Police investigation resulted in an earlier arrest of Chucky Cospelich," Peterson said, adding, "Cospelich was bound over to the Grand Jury in a preliminary hearing, but the police and the Grand Jury didn't feel there was enough evidence to bring a conviction."

"I feel there has to be more investigation into the matter and we feel that with the arrest of all three we can close out this investigation," Peterson explained.

"Cospelich remains free on bond in connection with this investigation," Peterson added.

Waveland squad car snatched

By RICH ADAMS
Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn said he is continuing an investigation into the Saturday morning theft of one of his patrol cars from Trapanis' Knock Knock Lounge in Waveland.

Dorn said Patrolman Chris Sands answered a call for an officer from the lounge at approximately 3:30 a.m.

When the officer went inside the building, the car was driven away, the chief explained.

The car was missing for approximately 30 minutes before it was recovered in Shoreline Park off Hwy. 603, Dorn reported.

No suspects have been arrested in the incident, he added.

STERLING ACHIEVEMENT—A Tuesday hearing before Hancock County Justice Court Judge Horatio Frierson is set for James E. Keeton, owner and operator of the Phillips 66 Truck Stop in Waveland, who is charged with receiving stolen property in connection with recent breakins in the Diamondhead area. In addition to Keeton, Ronald Melborne, 20, of Waveland, and Charles Johnson, 30, of Shoreline Park, also charged in the Diamondhead thefts, also Tuesday will face preliminary hearings before Justice Court Judge John Chevis.

Keeton was arrested Tuesday. Melborne and Johnson were arrested Jan. 28. The trio has been released on bond, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson. Inspecting some of the silverware and other valuables recovered during the investigation are, from left, Investigator Delbert Seay, Peterson, Investigator Alvin Ladner, and Deputy Mark Ohman, members of the sheriff's office who participated in the continuing investigation. broken when there was a 75-degree difference in temperature from today."

The tourism director mentioned the importance of tourists in Mississippi, especially in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

Williams stated, "Tourism means a billion dollars a year in Mississippi. In the three coastal counties over $60 million a year goes in payroll for tourism related employment."

Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner addressed the group, saying, "We know God blessed us in Mississippi when he gave us the Gulf Coast. The little I have had to do with the Hospitality Station has made me proud of being a part. As your highway commissioner I will do everything I can to help the people of this area," and added, "This is a great day."

The festivities were sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce with Milford Lady, chairman of the event.

Jerry Benigno, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, said representatives from every chamber along the Gulf Coast were present.

Ms. Benigno added, "I think everything went real well, and all the state people were very happy," in talking about the open house.

Wayne-Ducomb, president of the Chamber Friday afternoon allowed, "I think the Hospitality Station is a beautiful facility and an asset to our County. I think it will do a lot to improve tourism in Hancock County as well as neighboring Harrison and Jackson Counties."

A couple from Iowa who pulled into the Hospitality Station said they couldn't believe so many people would be out on such a cold day.

Many of the visitors for the grand opening kept expressing how beautiful the facilities are, with emphasis placed on the working fire place giving a real hospitable feeling.

A large cake with the addition of coffee and soft drinks were distributed after the ribbon cutting.

The cake had the words "Mississippi, it's like coming home," lettered over an outline of the State.

The manager of the facility is Lillian Dillard of Pass Christian with receptionists Joyce Buquiol and Melanie Mitchell, Bay St. Louis and Patty Derry from Waveland.

At 2 p.m. Friday, Ms. Dillard said the tourists are already coming in in considerable numbers.

"We have had people from Vermont, Kansas, Toronto just to mention a few places - it is fantastic," Ms. Dillard said.

Construction began on the center in August, 1976, when a contract was awarded to Bond Paving Company of Gulfport for clearing and paving of the site at a cost of $894,453.

Then, in September, 1978, Roy Anderson Construction Company of Gulfport, under the architectural design of Godfrey, Bassett, and Tumminello of Jackson, was awarded a contract to construct the building at a cost of $1,237,764.

This is the fifth and largest of seven welcome centers planned along Mississippi's Interstate System to be completed. Each is designed to reflect the colonial antebellum heritage that is characteristic of the Deep South.

While the Mississippi State Highway Department has the responsibility to construct and maintain these facilities by caring for the grounds and furnishing the utilities and waste water disposal, the Mississippi Department of Economic Development has the duty to furnish the interior of these buildings, as well as staff the facilities and furnish brochures, tourist information and refreshments for the travelers.

The Hancock County Welcome Center building encompasses 7,000 square feet of space situated on 60 acres of land at the intersection of I-10 and highway 607.

It includes picnic grounds and rest area facilities and has the unique feature of an armillary sphere.

Other special attractions of this Welcome Center are that it houses a beautiful circular staircase and is furnished with genuine antiques.

A contract to landscape the site was awarded in January to Marvin's Garden and Landscape Service, Inc., of Sarasota, Florida, for $361,446, with the expected completion date set in May, 1982.

The total cost of the Welcome Center was funded 90 percent federal and 10 percent state monies.

Circuit Court.

Moran, 54, a Hancock County election official, pleaded not guilty Monday to the April 14 shooting death of Coast Electric employee Curtis (Chopper) Holman.

Judge Grant Friday said the process of random drawing for a prospective jury, called a special venire, is not rare.

"In murder cases this happens more often than not," the Second District Circuit Court senior judge said Friday.

A report of the jury selection in Friday's "South Mississippi Sun" stated Grant had "picked a special group of prospective jurors."

"I did not pick a jury. I randomly drew 100 names from the lot, the same as the court clerk would for any jury," Grant said Friday.

Not only is the practice legal, it is mandatory. If the defense requests a special venire, I must oblige," the judge added.

In other matters, Portia Goldin of Bay St. Louis pleaded not guilty to one count of obtaining food stamps under false pretense.

Goldin was arraigned last week but did not have legal representation at her hearing. She is also represented by Holleman.

In another arraignment, Elijah (Sugar Bear) Belino and Gary Wayne Bridges, both of Gulfport, pleaded not guilty to six counts of armed robbery in connection with an armed robbery of Seymour's Jewelry Store in Bay St. Louis.

Both men are free from the Hancock County Jail on bond.

Mohicans," Ewing said Friday.

"During the space race, the airplanes were used extensively, but now their use is limited. The craft is primarily designed to carry engines for spacecraft," he added.

The four engine, propeller-driven, craft has a maximum capacity to hold 11,000 gallons of fuel with a cargo area 30-feet tall and 100-feet long, Ewing estimated.

The floor of the cargo area is a movable pallet which is operated by a series of cables. The entire tail section of the plane swings aside to allow access for loading and unloading cargo.

"The pilot landed here earlier this week when he arrived from California with cones for the shuttle engine," Ewing explained.

"The craft then went to Cape Canaveral to the Kennedy Space Center, and was slated to refuel in New Orleans," he continued.

"The pilot landed here Wednesday to refuel instead of going to New Orleans because he enjoyed the treatment he and his crew received at Stennis," the director added.

The airplane, which is owned by the American Jet Corporation and contracted by NASA, was slated to return to California Friday afternoon, Ewing said.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT THE FUNERAL BILL

What Do I Pay For?

Edmond Fahey, III

The Edmond Fahey Funeral Home has always furnished each family with an itemized funeral statement, "Not just a total funeral service charge."

This statement enables the individual to see what services were rendered along with an itemized cost. With us you are only charged for the services rendered.

The main funeral costs incurred are:

- Cost of the casket
- Opening & Closing of grave
- Professional services
- Cost of vault (If desired)
- Use of facilities
- Death Certificates
- Out of town newspaper notices

Each of the above costs are individually itemized for you.

We firmly believe the individual should always know what he is paying for.

GCJC votes ban on foreign students from 'hostile' lands

The Gulf Coast Junior College board of trustees last week voted to discontinue future admission to GCJC of foreign students whose government is deemed hostile to the United States.

In his motion to the board trustee C.G. Odom of Stone County said "the administration can determine each spring which countries are hostile or not by event of the world."

The former dean of the Perkinson Campus said the cost foreign students pay to attend GCJC is "no more than what a student from Alabama or Florida pays," adding the college receives no state funds for the students and subsidies out of local money.

Larry Fornea of Jackson County agreed with Odom "emotionally," but questioned the "constitutionality of giving blanket coverage...when the rights of the students are to be considered."

"That's a constitutional problem that could possibly open the door to pandemonium in the way of civil rights," he said.

Addressing the legality of the request, Board Attorney Roy Strickland said foreign students cannot be admitted to the United States unless their applications for college admission are accepted by the institution.

"When a student is here legally you cannot discriminate in any way. We'd have serious economic repercussions from the federal government if we discriminated," he told the board.

Strickland said that Odom's purpose "is not to hurt the feelings of those people who are already here (GCJC). He is careful not to let this action be a reaction like we had in World War II."

Some board members warned that the issue was a government concern. James E. Bryan Jr. of Stone County said the presence of foreign students on campus "is one of the strong points in our educational program." He told fellow trustees they "cannot judge an individual by the whole country. We (board) have so many problems of our own that I'd like to leave foreign policy to the government."

GCJC President J.J. Hayden Jr. said the administration is aware of the problem. "But we cannot recommend how to set up policy other than for us to be as strict as possible in admitting foreign students."

"The problem is when we give approval for the individual we don't know a thing about him. Our state department doesn't give us one thing on these students," Hayden said there should be the opportunity to refer foreign students back to the State Department to be "checked out" before a recommendation is made to the administration for their admission.

"We recognize it as a problem. The action needs to be taken with our senators and congressmen. We need to write letters and talk to them about this," he said.

questions and answers

Q. A friend of mine has a 17-year-old daughter who is retarded. Could the child get SSI payments on the basis of disability?

A. If the child is eligible in all other respects, a retarded child under 18 (or under 21 and attending school) is considered disabled for SSI purposes and may be eligible for payments if his or her IQ is 59 or less. A slightly different definition applies to older retarded persons. A retarded child with a higher IQ also may be considered disabled, depending on whether the child has a physical or other mental impairment and the degree to which the child depends on others, or the child's ability to achieve developmental milestones. For more information, contact any social security office.

The true Creole or Cajun bordelaise sauce, fancy French cookbooks notwithstanding, is made only with butter, olive oil, garlic and seasonings, and is delicious on or with just about anything...well, not exactly, love never tried it on ice cream-thought I confess I think a sprinkling of cayenne pepper does wonders for a scoop of vanilla ice cream. (Don't say "Yuk"-my grandsons' expression for anything distasteful-until you try it. It's a taste treat to which I was introduced long, long years ago by a Creole friend in New Orleans). Back to the bordelaise-it's tasty over pasta, delicious over steak or shellfish. Some cooks add red wine to the sauce when serving with steak.

One of my favorite ways of using this sauce is Spaghetti Shrimp Bordelaise

1/2 stick butter
3 Tbsp. olive oil
2 tsp. finely chopped garlic
2 shallots or green onions, chopped
2 Tbsp. minced parsley
1 lb. shrimp, shelled

In heavy saucepan, melt the butter over low, low heat, then add the oil, and next the garlic and shallots, dashes of salt and pepper and cayenne. Cook until the garlic barely starts to brown, add the shrimp and parsley, and continue cooking until shrimp are barely pink-don't overcook.

Serve over freshly cooked spaghetti. (Serves 4-6) Bordelaise sauce is also delicious-sans the shrimp, of course-with oysters and spaghetti. We like it also "as is"-just the sauce itself over the pasta, with grated Parmesan cheese lavishly dusted over the dish.

Or, you might add bits of ham or sausage to the bordelaise sauce. In other words, many of us Americans are learning these days to cook and serve our pasta as the Italians do-in many other ways than the usual spaghetti with tomato or meat sauce. Try it!

Diamondhead News

The new Diamondhead fire station was dedicated at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 27 with about 100 citizens in attendance. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary provided coffee, cookies and cake.

Ed Frilox served as master of ceremonies and introduced guests. The Rev. Joe Cothern gave the invocation and Donna Gendusa, queen of the 1979 fishing rodeo, cut the ribbon with an oversize pair of scissors.

Harrie Devine-Chairperson and Syble Paul-secretary-treasurer, are the new officers.

Sylvia Pross, Luther Grice and Tom Shelton constitute the rest of the fire commission-dedicated group of people.

The annual awards, in plaque form, for dedicated, unselfish service went to Syble Paul-and Rodney Aguzin, assistant chief.

DMG tourney produced some close results. Al Dousson, Clarence Oberwerkman, Glenn Smith and E.C. Dean comprised the winning foursome.

Individuals tied for first place were Clarence Oberwerkman, Tom Carlin and John Booth.

Ray Musacchia was alone in fourth place. Andy Anderson took fifth honors. Tied for sixth: Glenn Smith, E.C. Dean, Vince Almerico and Stan Haight.

Linn Godard's home was site of the Newcomer's planning committee meeting. Dottie Lacey, Jane Conley, Audell Carlson, Lorraine Heier were joined by new member Bertha Morris at the luncheon.

The Feb. 8 meeting will be at 11:30 a.m. at the Country Club and members will model Mardi Gras costumes. A King cake will be the door prize and Verna Brennan will give the commentary on costumes.

Coronations of King Akua Kai (Harrie Devine) and his Queen (Ida Mae Snow) of the sea and King Ali'i Honua (Luther Grice) and his Queen (Lee Peterson) of the land have been beautifully staged and now all attention is on Mardi Gras.

The theme of the season will be "Roots of Diamondhead" and individuals and groups are invited to register for float entries.

Royalty of the land and the sea will join at the Yacht Club to exchange courtesies after the parade.

Some 440 lots were added to Diamondhead last year and will produce added income to Hancock County. The new units bear such non-Hawaiian names as Fairway Estates I and II, Pine Ridge Estates, the Highlands, Dear Run and phase two of the Oaks and Devil's Elbow. Diamondhead Homes completed 80 new homes on the project but there is no official count of construction by individual contractors.

The Boy Scout benefit breakfast will be today at the new fire house. Hours from 7:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. All proceeds will go to supporting our rapidly growing scouting organization. The DMGA sponsors girl scouts and made a donation for camping equipment.

At ladies weekly bridge club, with five tables, Mary Hoppert won first place, Dorothy Rickson won second place, and Mary McDonnell won third.

ETV Brief

Mysterious things will be happening on the Mississippi ETV Network at 9 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning February 5. At that time, the new series "Mystery!" will begin its 15-week run of thrillers, whodunits, romantic suspense stories and detective yarns. The new series, like mystery fiction itself, includes many kinds of stories. They range from Victorian Scotland Yard tales to contemporary thrillers. They have in common only the fact that a crime has been committed-or appears to have been committed. The first program of the series is "She Fell Among Thieves." Adapted from a Dornford Yates novel, the 90-minute thriller stars Eileen Atkins and Malcolm McDowell. Ms. Atkins plays an arch villain named Vanity Fair, who heads a 1920's criminal gang whose hideout is a castle in the French Pyrenees.

And the children still suffer!

It has been over 10 years since Hurricane Camille forced the use of trailers for class rooms at North Bay Elementary.

Several generations of students have had to use the inconvenience of these trailers as classrooms and it looks like several more will have to if things continue the way they are going.

If there is going to be bickering between parents, teachers and school board members, nothing will ever be accomplished for the betterment of our children's education.

It is beyond our realm of imagination as to how 10 years could have passed and NO ONE seems a bit interested in replacing the trailers with permanent classrooms.

Oh yes! we have heard some talk about air conditioning the classrooms; but tell us this, is it more important to have air conditioned classrooms than to get rid of the trailers?

How many months of the year, or shall we say how many days of the year will air conditioners be needed? Air conditioner use is only a very few days when you consider the 180 or so days a student attends class.

Another thing for us to consider is this, how many of the parents of students attending North Bay Elementary were educated in air conditioned classrooms? We would say very few and probably those who had air conditioning were from some other school system.

Time is wasting, our children are suffering, and really in danger, especially in trailers. If you think they are safe, ask firemen who try to save a mobile home on fire in only a few minutes the whole thing is in ashes.

The time is now to cut out the petty politics, bickering between everyone concerned, think about our children, bury the hatchet and get some decent classrooms at North Bay Elementary.

THE MAN BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he saw no newspapers or tv. But he sold good hot dogs.

He put a sign on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, Mister," And People bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened... His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a big depression on. The Middle-East situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son has been to college. Reads the papers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So, the father cut down on his meat and bun orders. Took down his advertising signs. An no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, son," the father said to the boy. "We are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

A GOOD TREND - We hope the trend for visitors at the Hospitality Station will be to head East on 607 to US-90 like the majority of the visitors did following the opening house on Friday. The State has installed some good directional signs and we are sure the hostesses will do their best to aid the travelers. We could suggest one addition to the signs and that would be to mention the fact that the Coast highway is four lanes.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL
THE STATE
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

START AT THE TOP

Most Mississippians accept the principle that education is one of the keys to breaking the poverty cycle in this state.

Despite commitments of millions to public schools, the state still lags behind the national educational. For example:

- Mississippi's high school students in 1977 averaged two points lower on the American College Test than the other southern states and three points lower than the nation.

- Some 1700 students are dropping out of public elementary and secondary schools each year.

- Less than half of the state's fifth graders are reaching college.

The trend does not seem to be getting any better - only worse. In any organization where the service or product is not up to standards, the usual starting place for improvement is at the top. In this case, it is the State Board of Education which the Mississippi Economic Council recommends replacing with a lay state board.

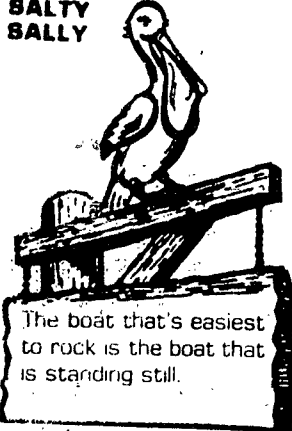

The board is composed of, by statute, the state superintendent of education as chairman, the state attorney general, and secretary of state. Only two states, Mississippi and Florida, utilize other state officials with heavy responsibilities in their own offices to serve as the state board of education.

Despite the fact that school districts in the state operate under local, independent boards of trustees and receive state funds under statutory formulas, there is an important role for the state board in the guidance of school districts in curriculum development, improved teaching, and efficient use of resources.

MEC recommends that a lay, constitutional state board of education be established by appointment with the number on the board being small enough and the terms long enough to ensure effective administration. And, the terms should be staggered to prevent selection of a majority during any four-year period.

And, an appointed school board can provide greater service and more effective leadership than an elected board whose members must be concerned about the political consequences of any difficult decisions. Miss Economic Council.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Balance the Budget

Dramatic progress is being made in the Senate Judiciary Committee on winning approval of a resolution calling for a Constitutional amendment to require that the federal government's budget be balanced each year.

For years the government has been spending more than it has been receiving in tax revenues. This is not too serious when done only occasionally, but the trend has been so bad for so long in Washington that the total national debt has now reached almost $900 billion.

During the past thirty years, there have been deficits in the federal budget for 25 of those years, an average of five out of every six budgets. The 1981 budget deficit recommended by the President in his State of the Union message, if adopted by Congress, would be the lowest in seven years, and it would be nearly $16 billion.

Deficit spending raises the inflation rate and weakens the value of the American dollar. This reduces the buying power of families struggling to make ends meet in providing food, clothing and shelter and educating their children.

In an attempt to restore some semblance of order and

Dear Editor:

I think this community could give a little more assistance or at the very least, common courtesy to the ladies of the Humane Society.

They are certainly not gaining any financial profit from all the services they perform for this community.

They are not deserving of the rudeness and downright lies they get from certain of our citizens.

They're trying to help us and a lot more cooperation would be in order, rather than the kind of treatment they received when one lumber company's officials said they would donate lumber for doghouses and then denied they said it when called in on the offer.

Please be kind to these unselfish Christian ladies and if anyone has lumber they could donate for doghouses, please call - 467-9494 or 467-5765.

Draft dodgers, demonstrators prompt

Bay woman's offer to volunteer

Jan. 31, 1980

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Miss.
Letters to the Editor:

Dear Sir,

I wholeheartedly agree with Lucy Baker's letter of Jan. 31.

And now I have just heard a news report saying Harvard students held an anti-draft rally, burning old draft cards and Our American Flag.

What a bunch of ungrateful rats, to be living in the best country in the world, going to a big name university, and coming from well to do families.

Well, if these young men are an example of what the army would get, then I am all for drafting women.

For if our country has to depend on the "Hell no, I won't go" bunch, with the flag burners, and those who are already planning on "fleeing to Canada" it looks like it would be up to the women to defend our country.

As old as I am, I would not be drafted, but I sure would try to volunteer.

I can nurse, cook, keep books, drive, and can shoot any kind of gun.

So, Uncle Sam, go ahead and draft women and this old lady will be the first to volunteer.

Respectfully,
Nina S. Garcia

middle of March. If we succeed in winning approval of both houses of Congress for this important step toward fiscal responsibility, it then will be necessary to win approval, or ratification, by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states, or 38 of the 50 states in the Union.

I am a sponsor of Senate Joint Resolution 126, which has been reported favorably out of the subcommittee and was the subject of our recent hearings in Mobile.

This is the first time any subcommittee of either house of Congress has taken any action on this kind of legislation. It is really exciting to be involved in the successful work being done in our committee to impose new legal restraints on one of the big causes of inflation.

We have, as a nation, become so accustomed to having annual budget deficits and a rising national debt, that there is the grave danger they will achieve permanent status and a high degree of acceptance as a fiscal fact of life in Washington.

As your Senator, however, I do not accept that thesis and I will continue to make a strenuous effort to help restore fiscal sanity to our federal budget process.

"As elected officials, our main responsibility is to do what is best for the people. Terry Randolph's knowledge in this field is second to none in the state. This is the good American way to do business," the board president said.

Louie Ladner supported the president, adding, "I place the benefit of children in the district before political factors, and I favor this proposal."

Banks, citing a policy from the school board policy book, said a recommendation should come from the superintendent before hiring anybody.

"This should still go through the chain of command," Banks noted.

Sills then recommended the board allow its attorney to look at the contract prior to making any decision.

Cuevas also supported allowing Sills to make the final recommendation.

School Patron Ray Garcia said the students are suffering because of a "political conflict" in the system.

"The kids suffer now, not the board. If there is a conflict between the superintendent and the board, the children suffer. We cannot have politics in the educational system. It is wishy-washy," Garcia said.

School Patron Jean Halterlien also spoke out against politics in the system.

"The day efficiency is hired and not personalities is the day the educational system will benefit," Halterlien said.

Woodrow Ladner said the board is voting on efficiency, but added, "I know we have some teachers in the system who should be out digging ditches instead of teaching children."

Oris Ladner moved the board void Randolph's two-year contract in favor of the new proposal.

The motion was seconded by Louie Ladner and approved, with Cuevas abstaining from voting and Banks opposed to the issue.

Oris Ladner then moved the board hire Randolph as 16th Section manager under the new contract, which was seconded by Louie Ladner.

Banks asked Randolph if he believed in the board manual he helped write four years ago.

Randolph said he did not, adding he made recommendations of what he thought should go into the manual, but further adding he objected to many of the policies.

Banks then accused the board of taking away Sills' authority.

"We gave Mr. Randolph the power to make recommendations, and now we are taking it away from Mr. Sills," Banks said.

The vote to hire Randolph was split with Cuevas and Banks opposing the issue.

An opinion of Randolph's eligibility for the position of land manager has not been resolved by the Attorney General, the board reported.

In a related matter Saturday, Louie Ladner blasted Sills for "not being open" with board members, referring to the letter to the editor criticizing Randolph.

"Since you have been in office, you have always said you want an open relationship with the board. You said we will settle our differences at meetings," Ladner told the superintendent.

"We have been open with you, and we assumed you had been open with us. When I read this letter to the editor in the paper, I was very upset," he continued.

"We met several times and discussed this issue, and never once did you tell me you were 'violently opposed' to our hiring Mr. Randolph," Ladner said.

Ladner quoted private discussions with Sills in which he claims the superintendent referred to hiring Randolph as "great."

"I just want to know how we are going to have an open relationship," Ladner asked.

Sills said he was never asked for a recommendation and added he does not think Randolph's position with the district will be that of a consultant.

"I agree that this action would take a lot of work off of my shoulders, but we have already talked about this extensively, and I do not see any good which could come from this," Sills said.

Sills then explained that Randolph was originally hired at a unanimous meeting at which Sills was not present.

Woodrow Ladner said Sills had indicated approval of the hiring in private discussions, and called for an open relationship with the board.

"I agree. I also agree that I am the superintendent, not Terry Randolph," Sills said.

"We would never diminish your authority," Ladner answered.

In other business:

—Sills recommended no supplements be added to special education teachers' salaries to act as an inducement to work at the county schools' handicapped center;

—Approved the Title I Parent Advisory Council for 1980-1981; and —Withdrew a petition to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors requesting a $218,000 loan for buses and a proposed handicapped center. Oris Ladner voted against withdrawing the request.

OLG associate pastor assigned to Biloxi

The Rev. Louis Lohan, associate pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, will become associate pastor of Sacred Heart Church in North Biloxi April 11.

His transfer is among 22 new parish assignments announced Friday.

Rev. Francis Farrell, presently associate pastor at Sacred Heart, will assume the associate pastor duties at OLG.

The 22 new assignments in the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi were announced Friday by Bishop Joseph L. Howze, and affect 19 parishes including 13 Coastal parishes.

In a pastoral letter to be read at all Masses in the diocese this week-end, Bishop Howze explained the Clergy Tenure Policy under which the reassignments are being made.

He called on the congregations to understand the necessity for new pastors, associates or administrators "with great love and joy" and cooperate with them in their ministries.

Announcements of most of the changes were made last weekend within the parishes involved.

The pastoral letter notes this is the "first attempt to implement the tenure policy in the diocese," and explained

Jobless rate drops by 6.2 percent

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The percentage of Hancock County's unemployed civilian residents dropped to 6.8 percent by the end of December, according to latest data from Mississippi State Employment Service.

This unemployment rate is the lowest recorded since the end of September, 1979.

Hancock County recorded its highest unemployment figures for the year in November of eight percent.

The county figure is still higher than the state's 6.8 percent unemployment rate and well above the national 5.6 percent figure.

The Mississippi State Employment Service figures further show that Hancock County's available civilian labor force, based on residence, has drastically decreased from 7,400 people in December 1978 to 6,519 people in December 1979.

The state's unemployment rate rose to 6.2 percent in December, an increase of three-tenths percent compared to November's 5.9 percent jobless rate said Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Edgar C. Lloyd, Jr.

The 6.2-percent-for-December was lower than last year's rate of 6.9 percent for December. Mississippi's rate of 6.2 percent was higher than the national rate of 5.6 percent.

MESC figures showed 912,700. The initial unemployed insurance claims totaled 16,832 for December.

The counties having the highest rate of unemployment were Jefferson with 12.9 percent, Winston with 12.1 percent, and Sharkey with 11.5 percent.

Lafayette, Oktibbeha, and Rankin had the lowest rate of unemployed.

that the transfers grew out of a series of meetings that began two years ago.

The meetings involved the Clergy Council of Priests, a study committee, and the Clergy Personnel Board; all priests of the diocese participated and voted approval of the plan now being implemented.

The policy sets a pastor's term of office at six years. Two additional three-year terms are optional at the priest's request and with the bishop's approval. The term for associate pastors is four years, with an additional two-year term at the bishop's option.

Bridge opens, traps suspect

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
An unusual opening of the US-90 East Pearl River bridge near Pearlington led to the Friday afternoon arrest of Nartinel Condoll, 24, of New Orleans for allegedly stealing a Marine Concrete Structures employee's automobile Friday afternoon.

According Hancock County Sheriff's Department Deputy Dennis Tartavouille, the arresting officer, Condoll allegedly stole a 1966 Chevrolet belonging to Gerald Charles from the Marine Concrete parking lot at Port Bienville Friday.

"Mr. Charles saw a man take the car so he and some of the other men working with him pursued the stolen automobile," Tartavouille said.

"Charles and some of his fellow workers got in two cars to pursue the stolen vehicle," Peterson added.

"The men chased the Charles vehicle to the US-90 East Pearl bridge, which was open and had stopped traffic, where the suspect abandoned the car and ran into the woods near Pearlington," Tartavouille explained.

"After arriving at the bridge I searched the surrounding roads in the area. The suspect came out of the woods on the west side of Hwy. 604 where I apprehended him," Tartavouille said.

This Pie Makes It a Party!

Everyone's watching the food budget these days. Yet we still want to entertain our friends and treat the family to special meals. One sure way to turn even a modest dinner into a festive occasion is to dress up the menu with a luscious chocolate dessert—like this showpiece Chocolate Velvet Cream Pie. Starting with a handy cocoa base—there's no melting, which minimizes steps and effort—the pie filling is easy to put together. Most important, since cocoa is chocolate in very concentrated form, flavor will be extra rich, actually extra "chocolatey." (For a sophisticated mocha accent, simply add two teaspoons instant coffee powder to the dry ingredients.) Make the pie the night before, if you're at the job on party day. And to further shortcut preparation time, use a frozen prepared pastry shell or graham cracker crust. The bonus is, this sumptuous dessert won't ruin your budget: it's no-bake, so you save on fuel plus, 6 ounces of unsweetened cocoa goes as far as 8 squares of baking chocolate—that can amount to a real economy if you do a lot of baking.

CHOCOLATE VELVET CREAM PIE

(8 servings)

9-inch baked pastry shell 1/4 teaspoon salt or crumb crust, cooled 3 cups milk
1/3 cup Hershey's Cocoa 3 tablespoons butter
1-1/4 cups sugar 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/3 cup cornstarch

Prepare shell; set aside. Combine cocoa, sugar, cornstarch and salt in medium saucepan. Gradually blend milk into dry ingredients, stirring until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils; boil and stir 3 minutes. Remove from heat; blend in butter and vanilla. Pour into pastry shell; carefully press plastic wrap directly onto pie filling. Chill 3 to 4 hours. Serve with sweetened whipped cream or whipped topping. Garnish with chocolate curls, if desired.

Hertel-Friedmann wed in double ring rites

The marriage of Marla Dee Hertel of Diamondhead, and Daniel Robert Friedmann of New York, N.Y. was solemnized in a double ring ceremony Saturday, Jan. 26 at the Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St.

Louis with the Reverend Willis Britt officiating at the 2 p.m. ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Hertel of Diamondhead. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Friedmann of Lakewood, Fla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Carol Rice as maid of honor, and Karen Kennady, cousin of the bride; Louise Friedmann sister of the groom; and Lorraine Bowes were bridesmaids.

Rain Hertel, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Steven Friedmann, brother of the groom served as best man. Groomsmen were Donald Lee Hertel, brother of the bride; Pete Boltry; and John McNamara.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a honeymoon trip to Acapulco and Mexico City, the couple will reside in Baton Rouge, La.

Silver Tea includes tour of Billups home

BY JOE PILET

The traditional St. Valentine's Day Silver Tea, sponsored by the St. Monica Guild of Trinity Church in Pass Christian, has long been considered the "hardbinger of the social season."

Adding to the interest of the tea, scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 14, is a planned tour of the spacious and interesting home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Billups at 625 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian.

This home was selected by the Pass Christian Historical Society for its 1977 Tour of Homes and since that time has been increasingly popular with tour groups.

During last Christmas season the home was included on the 20th annual Holiday Tour of Homes sponsored by the Gulfport Civic League.

Dating from the late 1800's, this spacious home was originally on one floor. In about 1914 Mrs. M.Y. Hill planned the beautifully balanced second floor, featuring a sloping roof inset with dormer windows.

Dominating the entrance foyer is a gracefully curved and generously wide stairway with newel and handrail fashioned in simple and elegant style. This home is said to have been built on the site of a 19th Century mulberry farm and silkworm ranch.

The Billups have occupied the home since 1970 and although Hurricane Camille did considerable damage to trees and shrubs, the house itself fortunately sustained only minor injuries.

Expert tree surgery and repairs were made, and today the grounds are in immaculate condition.

Receiving with Mrs. Billups will be Mrs. H. McDonald Morse, wife of Trinity's rector; and Mrs. John Frith, president of St. Monica Guild.

Mrs. J. Randolph Buck serves as over-all chairman for the tea, with the assistance of Mrs. Stanford Morse Jr., senior adviser for the group.

Mrs. Buck said, "The Billups home lends itself admirably to large gatherings. The rooms are of generous proportions, and both front and side enclosed verandas assure a pleasant and uncrowded flow of arriving and departing guests."

"This tea," said Mrs. Morse, "is planned to be a most memorable event and should please the most discerning guests. There is a tasteful placement of furnishings and appointments. Those who appreciate the fine craftsmanship of antique

County agencies celebrating Tree Planting Week, Arbor Day

The Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District this week will be distributing slash pine seedlings to homeowners in observance of Tree Planting Week and Arbor Day.

The trees can be picked up at the Soil Conservation Service Office between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. in the Colonial Plaza, US-90, on Hwy 90 in office No. 7, Bay St. Louis.

Personnel of the district and the USDO Soil Conservation Service along with the Mississippi Forestry Commission will be available with information, according to Harry Patterson, Hancock County conservationist, and Rand Reidrich, Hancock County forester.

ARBOR DAY-Friday, February 8, 1980 is Arbor Day in Mississippi.

Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska in 1872. Mississippi began official observance of Arbor Day in 1926, pursuant to Section 5, Chapter 161 of the Mississippi Code.

The annual date for celebration of Arbor Day in our state was changed several times before finally being permanently established some years ago as the second Friday in February each year.

Arbor Day is a day to plant trees, shrubs and flowers to enhance the outdoor beauty of our state and to call attention to the many contributions that these gifts from God provide to mankind, the officials noted.

Trees are given special attention on Arbor Day in Mississippi because more than half of the state is covered by them.

"Our economy is heavily dependent on the growing and processing of trees - forestry recently moved ahead of cotton into second place as an economy contributor in Mississippi, Reidrich pointed out.

"Our environment is the envy of many other states, largely due to our renewable forest resources," he noted.

Forests in Mississippi provide employment for more than 64,000 people. Each dollar value in standing trees at harvest adds many more dollars to Mississippi's economy through harvesting, manufacturing, marketing, transportation and construction.

Forest watersheds prevent pollution of streams and lakes by keeping the soil from eroding away. Much of the rainfall, which would otherwise run off rapidly, soaks deep into the soil and eventually reaches underground reservoirs where it is held for future use.

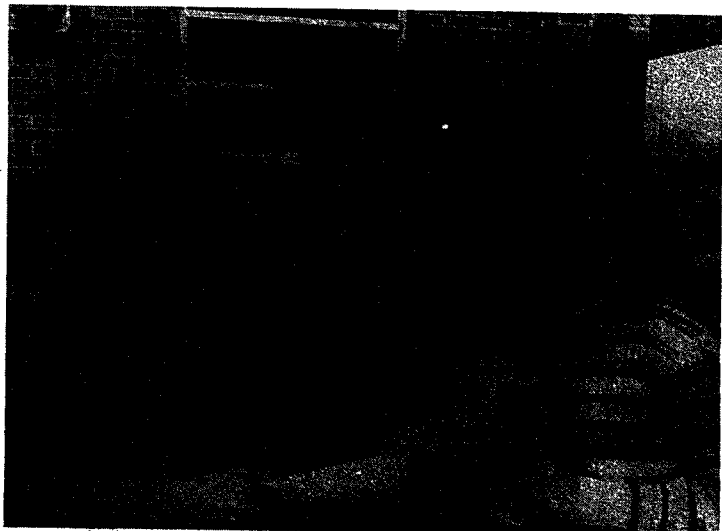

"For a great many people of all ages, our forest resource is a major source for recreation. Bird watching, plant identification, hiking, camping and hunting rank high in outdoor recreation preferences," Pattison explained.

"The spirit of Arbor Day is unique in that it looks forward, never backward. It directs the minds and hearts of participants to higher goals - goals which can be attained only through personal involvement, sacrifice, planning and responsible action," he noted.

It is a spirit which appeals to the young of heart and inspires them to work for the betterment of their community, state and nation," Pattison added.

For more information, contact the Mississippi Forestry Commission at 467-4728 or Soil Conservation Service at 467-5108.

COLLECTING FOR AVENUE OF MAGNOLIAS—Lacinda Linder, Mark Froulx and Melinda Smith, Bay St. Louis are students and members of the Pearl River College SPARC organization, are planning ways of collecting money for the "Dr. Garvin H. Johnson Avenue of Magnolias," a project taken on by the campus group to plant 21 miles of magnolias, the state tree, in memory of Dr. Johnston, from near Bogalusa, La. to the city of Poplarville and onto the Pearl River campus. Dr. Johnston was Mississippi's superintendent of education from 1968-1976 and president of Pearl River from 1953-1967. A goal of $5500 has been set, by the SPARC group.

Coast Women pilots slate Media Day

The Mississippi Chapter of the 99's will meet at the Gulfport Biloxi field in the Airport Manager's Building at 10 a.m. February 9th. The chapter will be hosting a "Media-Day" with local news reporters as guests.

Several organizations will have representatives present to give short briefings on their involvement with general aviation.

After the meeting the chapter intends to give short introductory flights to the media.

The meeting will be conducted despite bad weather.

Anyone interested in attending please contact Mary at 863-7053 or Carolyn at 875-6412.

Conservationists assist local landowners here

HANCOCK COUNTY SWCD AND SCS
By Harry Patterson
District Conservationist
Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District and the USDA-Soil Conservation Service are a working team in providing conservation assistance to local landowners with conservation problems.

The Hancock SWCD is a servation and district programs. The team work so the commissioners is evident in the amount of farms in the county with managed pastures and woodlands and farms with terraces across much of the cropland.

The 1938 Soil Conservation Districts Law of Mississippi created the district and also allowed the Soil Conservation to help in directing and assisting the district in their program.

Through the program objectives of the district, the SCS provides technical expertise to landowners with resources problem such as: Cropland Management, Pasture Management, Erosion Control, Pond Survey and designs, Terrace Layout, Environmental Education, Woodland Management, Wildlife Management and Soils Information.

The involvement of people is how objectives are reached and with the landowners, educators, Factory workers and home makers are all involved in our Natural resources can serve us all better and longer.

county board of five commissioners, three elected and two appointed, with a primary function of developing and implementing a program of Soil and Water Conservation to improve and protect the environment.

The District Commissioners are local landowners who donate their time, serve without pay and spend many hours working for con-

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

Hancock County beef producers will have an opportunity beginning this week to register to vote on a proposed nationwide Beef Research and Information program.

"County residents who own beef cattle as individuals, in a family business, in a partnership or as a corporation are eligible to register and vote," says John W. Smith, County Agent.

John W. Smith says the Hancock County-Pearl River County Office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is charged with the responsibility for registering and conducting the referendum locally.

The local office located at the American Legion Building, Main St., Poplarville, began registering producers January 28. The registration period will continue until February 6, and voting will take place at the same location between February 19 and 22.

Absentee registration and voting is allowed. Cattlemen interested in the absentee procedures should contact the ASCS Office at 796-4932.

John W. Smith says supporters of the "Beef Referendum" describe it as "self-help" program for cattlemen. If passed, the program will provide funds for beef research, provide consumer information, and finance promotion and foreign market development.

For the program to be initiated, 50 percent of those registering to vote must cast a ballot, and a majority of those casting ballots must vote for the proposed plan.

The program will be administered by a National Beef Board composed of beef cattle producers. The number of representatives each state will have on the board will be determined by cattle population in each state. The Board can have up to 68 members, but initially 60 people will be appointed.

Birthday fete honors five

Happy Birthday was the order of the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Caillier on Lakeshore Road last Sunday, where five birthdays were celebrated.

Those honored were Mr. Alfred Baumgartner; Mrs. Mary Caillier, Mrs. Davis and Eva and Maurice Shea.

A host of family and friends joined to make the day a very memorable one.

NO SMOKING
If you're pregnant, smoking is not only hazardous to your health, but to your unborn baby's too.

members will be made by producer groups from the various states, and the Secretary of Agriculture will make the appointment.

If the referendum passes, every cattlemen along the production chain will automatically invest two-tenths of one percent (20 cents per $100) of the value he adds to the animal. At the end of the chain, the packer will collect the money and remit it to the Beef Board.

PREVENT EROSION
Winter and spring are peak times for cropland soil losses due to erosion. That's why it is so important this fall to leave land subject to severe erosion in a condition that will minimize soil losses. On strongly sloping land to be row cropped next year, shred the residue and leave it on the surface.

Fall chiseling or subsoiling on the contour will improve water intake and reduce erosion. Highly erodible soils should not be pulverized by tilling this fall. Established sod on borders, drain ditches and adjustment strips will slow runoff and also reduce erosion.

EQUIPMENT CARE
Cleaning small engines on lawn mowers and garden equipment before storing them for the winter will save time next spring. The first step is to clean the engine and implements to remove dirt, oil and trash.

Beta Sigma Phi sets

Ball date

Mrs. Linda Stone was hostess for a Jan. 28 meeting of Alpha Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Co-Chairmen Janice Head and Linda Stone discussed final plans for the Valentine Ball to be held Feb. 9 at the Gulfport Yacht Club.

The Ball will include cocktails, dinner, the crowning of Chapter Valentine queens, and dancing. The band for the Ball is Jay Heitzmann's from Bay St. Louis.

Beezy Schaefer was appointed chairman for the Spring Garage Sale.

The Ritual of Jewels will be held Feb. 25 for the four new pledges.

The next meeting will be Feb. 11 in the Bay St. Louis home of Helen Mallini.

PRENATAL NUTRITION
Nutrition plays a vital role in pregnancy, reports the March of Dimes. One main reason why many babies are born too soon or too small is because their mothers eat poorly or unwisely while pregnant.

TREE FARMERS—Mississippi's new governor and first lady are proud to be Mississippi tree farmers. Governor and Mrs. William Winter own a tree farm in Grenada County. Mississippi has more certified tree farmers than any other state in the nation, with 5,214. The Mississippi Tree Farm Program is administered by Mississippi Forestry Association, 620 North State Street, Jackson, MS 39201. Private forest landowners who would like to have their lands placed in the tree farm system are invited to contact MFA. Governor Winter is a former chairman of MFA's Tree Farm Committee.

WEEKLY BROILERS, week ending January 19.

BROILER TYPE
Hatcheries in the State set 6,502,000 eggs for broiler chicks during the week ending January 19, 1980, 1 percent above the previous week and 2 percent above the corresponding week a year ago.

There were 5,677,000 broiler chicks placed on Mississippi farms during the week ending January 19, 1980, slightly above the previous week and 6 percent above the corresponding week a year ago.

Cumulative placements for 1980 are 16,891,000 broiler chicks - 6 percent above a year earlier.

EGG-TYPE

Hatcheries in the State set 299,000 eggs for egg-type chicks during the week ending January 19, 1980, 5 percent above the previous week but 13 percent below the 345,000 set during the comparable week a year ago.

Hatch of egg-type chicks was 200,000, 26 percent below the previous week and 71 percent below the 288,000 hatched during the comparable week a year ago.

In the five states that accounted for about 26 percent of the hatch of all egg-type chicks in the U.S. in 1978, settings during the week ending January 19, 1980 were up 2 percent and hatchings were down 8 percent from a year ago.

Diversion program stopped for cotton, wheat, feed grains

Acting Secretary of Agriculture Jim Williams recently announced a series of actions designed to fully offset the potential impact on farm prices and income from the action taken to suspend shipment of agricultural commodities to the Soviet Union.

Effective immediately, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will:

- Increase the wheat loan price to $2.50 a bushel;
- increase the corn loan price to $2.10 a bushel, with comparable increases in loan prices for the other feed grains;
- increase the reserve release price to $3.75 a bushel for wheat-representing 150 percent of new loan price;
- increase the reserve call price to $4.63 a bushel for wheat-representing 185 percent of the new loan price;
- increase the reserve release price to $2.63 a bushel for corn-representing 125 percent of the new loan price;
- increase the reserve call price to $3.05 a bushel for corn-representing 145 percent of the new loan;
- make comparable increases in reserve release and call prices for the other feed grains;
- waive first year interest costs for the next 13 million tons of corn (corn only) entering the reserve;
- increase reserve storage payments from 25 to 26 1/2 cents a bushel for all reserve commodities except oats, which is increased from 19 to 20 cents a bushel.

As Vice-president Walter Mondale announced, the Department will also:

- purchase 4 million tons (150 bushels) of wheat, including the assumption of the contractual obligation on up to 3.7 million tons (135 million bushels) that will not be shipped to the Soviet Union;
- offer to assume the contractual obligation on up to 10.0 million tons (395 million bushels) of corn.

A decision on a paid diversion program for 1980 crop grains will be made at a later date. Williams said the increase in budget outlays for the entire package for fiscal years 1980 and 1981 is estimated at $2.5 to $3.0 billion. Most of this increase, among $2.0 billion, will come in fiscal year 1980.

COST OF REGULATING

While all citizens today are encumbered by the growing web of red tape surrounding their daily lives, farmers and businessmen in general are among the worse sufferers from this malady because of the dual nature of their home and business interests.

The U.S. Office of Management and Budget now estimates that the annual cost of federal regulation of U.S. industry alone has reached $135 billion. And a study conducted for the Business Roundtable shows that compliance with federal regulations adds about ten percent across the board to business firm expenditures.

Farmers are businessmen and catch this statistic right on the chin along with a lot of others, which explains why about 10,000 U.S. farmers who met last week in Phoenix, Arizona, for the 61st annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation gave considerable attention to problems created by over-regulation.

The farm group's preliminary policy statements before final delegate enactment warned that today the regulatory agencies in government are, in effect, enacting more laws than the legislative branch.

This column was written the day before the columnist left for the Phoenix convention, and is based on preliminary actions of the national resolutions committee which consists of the presidents of each of the state Farm Bureau units. It will become official policy for 1980 as you read column and as it is voted on by the voting delegates from each state.

The aforementioned survey singles out the Environmental Protection Agency as by far the most expensive regulatory agency—creating 77 percent of the added costs of regulation. The Equal Opportunity Commission accounted for 8 percent of the cost burden; the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, 7 percent; and the Department of Energy, 5 percent.

Federal regulatory costs now are reportedly equivalent to five percent of the entire gross national product, with an annual cost of $500 per U.S. citizen or $2,000 per family. The Farm Bureau feels that such costly over-regulation by the U.S. government already has had a debilitating effect on the nation by destroying initiatives to work, save and build. As evidence, the Farm Bureau organization points to unemployment, mounting personal and public debt, and a worsening productivity level.

Two years ago the farm organization called for the repeal of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration—terming it detrimental to the American farmer and the American public, and a federal usurpation of state, local, and individual rights.

Since that time a businessman in the west challenged OSHA's right to invade his business property, which was located in his home, for the purpose of a safety inspection as a violation of his Constitutional rights. He won his case in district federal court yet an appellate decision remains pending.

Meanwhile, the OSHA administrator has announced a more moderate course in carrying out its regulations.

Farmers are now asking Congress to place less emphasis on passing new laws that further restrict the freedom of Americans and, instead, give greater emphasis to its oversight responsibility so that the original intent of the Congress will be better observed by administration agencies.

Even so, proliferation of Congress itself adds to the expense burden. Last year, for example, more than ten thousand bills were introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives, and another 2,387 in the Senate. And over the past ten years, staff growth for the U.S. House of Representatives has grown by almost 60 percent.

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale
and Ruth Stafford Peale

Parents bring out the worst
Q. Our son is a Vietnam veteran. At 19 he was sent to DaNang and one year later came back suffering a nervous breakdown. He is abusive verbally to his father and me. We love him but after 10 years (in and out of the hospital) we feel we are failing to help him and perhaps he would be better off away from us. It seems we bring out the worst in him. I feel he should turn to God and pray for healing, but he's not ready to do that. Where can we turn for help?

A. It is true that the volatile condition created by a breakdown can be accentuated by parents, however loving and well-meaning. Perhaps local mental health authorities can help you work out other living arrangements for your son.
Since your son won't pray for his healing, do it yourself, and believe such healing will occur. But do this quietly and as your own. Pray for him as well, affirming his healing and believing. This technique has an enormous power to effect good results.

We are sending you our book, "Healing For Loved Ones and For You," which is free to any reader of this column. Write to Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Feels so lost

Q. I seem to have lost my belief in God and can't get back to the basics I was. I have a disease called lupus and taking medication I am causing problems at work. I am trying to hold down a job because of our many bills due to my illness. Nothing seems to go right. I have thought of taking my life. Maybe my family would be better off without me. I don't know that is one sin God won't forgive you for. Please can you help me?

I feel so lost.

A. Take yourself in hand and change your way of thinking. Start by reaffirming your belief in God. Then begin relying on Him. He won't fail you, and you will experience His presence and help.

Go to church in a normal manner. One of the heaviest persons I have ever known was one of the most beloved members of her church. She was lots of fun and nobody paid any attention to her weight.

Normal is the word for you—thinking, acting and believing. Such an attitude will also help you physically.

Mixed-up prisoner

Q. I am 20 years of age and incarcerated in prison honor camp. I would like to know what you would do if you were in my shoes. This girl and I have a little boy almost 7 months old. I have only seen him one time. Now she is going with another guy, and they say I will never see my son. She told me not to ever write her again. What should I do? I am mixed up. I care a lot for her and our baby.

A. Since you are not married you probably have no legal right to visitation of the child. But as the father, humane consideration should give you opportunity to see your own boy now and then.

I would suggest that you tell the mother, in honesty, that you will not intrude in her life or the boy's. Show her consideration and prove yourself a person of good character. If she becomes aware that there is nothing to fear and that she can reorder her life as she wishes, she may be willing for you to visit your son at intervals.

Pulpit Points

BY DR. L.S.
WALKER

Dr. L. S. WALKER
TODAY can be the greatest day in your life! If you have been saved by the grace of God, it can also be the greatest day in your life since you became a child of God by faith in Jesus Christ.

You may think of that experience being the greatest day.
Today is a new day, and its possibilities are unknown and unlimited. Realizing this, we should plan, think and act, leaving the final results in his hands.

God's wise providence in allotting our time and dividing our lives into days is among the manifold blessings He has bestowed upon us with rich purposes in mind.
Each new day has its own individual opportunities and responsibilities; challenges and changes; its joys and cares; its blessings and burdens; its trials and triumphs.

Yesterday's burdens are behind us. Both its good and its bad are in His hands.
Tomorrow will be lived when tomorrow comes - but then it will be today! We need not be anxious today as to what tomorrow may bring. It too, is in His hands.

Our task is to do the best we can today as though it could be the last day of this life. It is today for which He has given strength, grace and guidance sufficient unto our need.

And when its hours are ended and its tasks are fulfilled, He has provided for us the evening for rest and renewal of physical and mental strength.

So let us, as nearly as we can, make this day which He hath given us, one of those days "that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring," said the wise man, Solomon (Prov.
27:1). It is only important that we know Him who brings the day.

The Psalmist said: "This is a day which the Lord hath made;
we will rejoice and be glad in it" (Ps. 118:24).

Let the day be filled with gladness; with courage; with love, faith and hope. Treat it not lightly, for it is a part of your life, that when spent, can never be redeemed.

The paramount lesson of life is to learn to use wisely our allotted days - and to realize that today - the present - is the most important day of all days.

Yesterday is as a cancelled check; tomorrow only a promissory note; today is like cash in the hand; Yesterday is gone; there may be no tomorrow; we have today! It is therefore, the greatest day of our life!

WIRING TRIGGER MECHANISM—Don Milligan of the State highway Department completes wiring of the trigger mechanism which is designed to improve traffic conditions at the intersection of US-90 and Beach Boulevard. Motorists traveling north and south on Beach Boulevard or turning south off US-90 will trigger the timing device, which will cause the signals to change sooner than the normal cycle. Larger lights and the trigger device are intended to reduce the number of accidents occurring at that intersection. (Staff photo—Rich

Levy; secretary, Mrs. Jerry S. Roberts; treasurer, Mr. Sidney P. Prendergast Jr.; parliamentarian, Mrs. Eva Shea; and sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Pat Killen. Each officer has pledged their dedication, hard work, and sincere interest in improving their community.

Legal Notices

December 18, 1979
Honorable Mayor and Councilmen
City of Bay St. Louis Bay St. Louis, Mississippi

Gentlemen:
We have examined the balance sheet of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi Utility System as of September 30, 1979, and the related statements of income and retained earnings for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

An inventory of materials and supplies are not taken at the end of the fiscal year and consequently, was not included in the balance sheet; nor are the difference in beginning and ending inventories of materials and supplies reflected in the statement of income. These financial statements are presented in the format for an enterprise fund which is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, for utility systems. In prior years, the financial statements were presented in a general fund format which does not facilitate the presentation of a statement of changes in financial position for the current year because of the absence of comparable classifications from the previous fiscal period. The omission of a statement of changes in financial position is a departure from generally accepted accounting principles that causes the financial presentation to be considered incomplete.

In our opinion, except as noted above, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly the financial position of the City of Bay St. Louis Utility System at September 30, 1979, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles which except for the change in financial statement presentation and the recording of depreciation on fixed assets as described in Note 3 to the financial statements, have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S SALE

WHEREAS, on November 14, 1977, Henley Burnside executed and delivered to Bonnelle P. Ladner, Trustee, for Edwin O. Ellsworth, that certain Deed of Trust securing an indebtedness as evidenced by a promissory note of the same date, which said Deed of Trust appears of record in Book 205, on Pages 38-39 of the Record of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land of Hancock County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, the said Edwin O. Ellsworth, did thereafter, under and by virtue of the terms of the aforesaid Deed of Trust, appoint and substitute the undersigned Lawrence Semski as Trustee therein, instead of Bonnelle P. Ladner, originally named as Trustee therein, said appointment of Substitute Trustee being dated November 15, 1979, and being recorded in Book 224, Page 774, of the Record of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land of Hancock County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, default having been made and now existing in the aforesaid indebtedness due the said Edwin O. Ellsworth, and foreclosure thereof having been requested by the said Edwin O. Ellsworth, by the sale of property under and by virtue of the terms of the aforesaid Deed of Trust,

NOW, therefore, I, the undersigned Lawrence Semski, Substitute Trustee, under the provisions of and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, will on Tuesday, February 19, 1980, at the main front door of the Hancock County Court House at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, offer for sale for cash and will sell, during legal hours at public outcry, to the highest bidder, the following described property, together with all improvements thereon, situated in the Hancock County, State of Mississippi, to-wit:

Four Lots of Ground, designated by the numbers 25, 26, 27 and 28, Block O, Bounded by Bayou Drive, Ivy Drive and Harbor Drive, all as shown on a Plat of Survey of that Subdivision known and designated as Harbor Estates Third Addition by Henry Chapman, Surveyor, dated March 6, 1957, of record in Plat Book No. 2, Page 34.

Title to the said property is believed to be good, but I will sell only such title as is vested in me as trustee.

Signed, posted and published on this, the 27th day of January, 1980.
